Momentum Race Group Takes First Hot Laps in Koni Challenge Camaro's

DALLAS, TX – October 27th, 2009 - Momentum Race Group spent a sunny weekend at Eagles Canyon Raceway in Decatur, TX last weekend. Both 05 and 06 cars were put through their paces on this technical track. An entire Saturday was spent testing the cars in back to back sessions giving the drivers plenty of time to adapt and to find any weak links in the Riley built chassis. The day ended with both cars still running perfectly, and drivers exhausted from so much seat time.

“This first test day could not have gone any better. We ran the cars nearly non-stop all day without doing anything other than setting and adjusting basic suspension parameters and downloading data” , commented Momentum Race Group’s Executive Vice President Jordon Musser.

The cars are outfitted with the latest data system from Aim Sports (Mychron) including the new Smarty Cam which allows co-drivers to compare not only engineering data from various sensors, but also drive line data thanks to the data over video capabilities.

Momentum Race Group is dedicated to providing the best team, the latest technology and finest race cars available for each class we run in. The final part of this picture is putting together the right drivers to win a championship, which we are currently finalizing. Our team, technology and cars will allow our drivers to get the maximum from themselves and the race car. Any driver interested in being considered for the Momentum team should contact Jordon Musser.
